Grade News

Grades 1 and 2—We are glad to welcome Walter Halpern, Malcolm Wilder and Douglas Tubbs back in school. They have been ill.

The first grade is busy constructing a farm booklet.

In our Social Studies we are studying about Community Helpers. We are building our own stories and reading them from large charts. We are making community helpers in drawing. Our firemen climbing ladders and riding on fire engines are quite realistic.

Grades 5 and 6—Tests this week. We don't really mind though. There are so few of us we ought to do good work.

We were glad to see Miss Travis last Thursday.

Everyone is anxiously awaiting the snow for skiing. We want to work out a unit on skiing. Mr. Serson has promised to get us some movies on this subject.

Kate's Kapers

It seems most of the kids were mad about last week's news.

Those who have no tests seem to meet in the halls and have their chats, referring to a junior girl and a senior boy.

Anna Witkin went to Halcottville Friday night but with whom?

The games at Fleischmanns were excellent last Friday night and our hero was G. Ocker. He had Betty for inspiration although on opposite sides.

What has happened to Dick and Ruth? What boy does Mary G. think is nice?

Athletics

Basketball is still king of sports at F. H. S., and last Friday saw the playing of two fast games with teams from Margaretville. It has been stated by eminent sports authorities that when one team can't get going it is because the other team is stopping them. Something stopped the Margaretville girls from winning but then neither did the Fleischmanns team win. The end of the game saw a tie of 19 to 19, which according to the rules of the NYSPHSAA has to remain a tie in girls' games. Shirley Dutcher was high scorer with ten points to her credit. In the back court a very able defense was put up by Geraldine Mayes, Helen Riley and Ruth Scudder. For the short time Winona Scudder was in the game she made a splendid showing and if she continues improving she will be outstanding by the time she has played three more years. Dorothy Fuller proved a tower of strength in shaking off her opponent.

The boys' game started aggressively with the F. H. S. team going down for a score in the first few minutes of play. The M. H. S. boys retaliated and tied it up. Following some hard work on both sides the Margaretville boys called time out to collect themselves for the next onslaught. The zone defense of the home team could not be successfully pierced, however, and many long shots were attempted by the Margaretville boys. These served only to put the ball in possession of George Ocker who immediately worked it down to the opposing basket where it was fed to Dunham or Hummell. Gug made his chief contribution by passing the ball and retaining possession. Maxim played well but not brilliantly as is his usual custom. He has been fighting hard to avoid going to bed with the three day flu which is going around. Mr. C. O. Field, Principal at Walton was referee of both games and all officials agree that he did a good job. A large crowd attended using all available space in the gym. Charlie has a nickel which he states he is going to frame for making the only foul basket on his team during the game. We have heard of high-jinx but this game just seems to be a jinx for Margaretville.

Assembly Program

The Physical Geography class gave an interesting number for assembly on Friday last, members of the class representing the planets of the Solar System. It did not seem quite fair to have Ward Reynolds hold up an inch disc to represent Mercury, while Stella Shurika struggled with the huge mass of Jupiter. Meanwhile a voice from the Heavens (which we recognized as that of Mr. Lasher) explained the universe over the radio. The next part of the program showed Gug mixing the chemical punch. With much consternation his wine turned to water and his "stick" in the water changed it back to wine. The patter for the act was given by Helen Lasher.

There will be no assembly program today as all are getting over the affair of last night and only a few tests are given today. For next Friday we have two all sound reels, one the Life of Thomas A. Edison, the other Magic vs Science.

Mr. Smith, the representative of the Fulton Syphon Company was with us all last week adjusting the heating system. He made a graph of all the room temperatures and now pronounces them in perfect adjustment giving a uniform temperature of 70-71 degrees. He found that we kept the temperature in the halls too high, making it seem cold on entering the classrooms while in reality the classroom temperatures were sufficiently high.

The trucks for the auditorium chairs have now arrived and the chairs can be properly stored under the stage. The volley ball net has been installed and this makes our equipment complete. The floor microphone for the radio has also arrived and has been assembled and tested and found first class.

An overwhelming number of letters have come in to us, with unstinted praise for our humble efforts. We print them both below:

Dear Editor:
Your column was splendid!
Mother.

Editor:

The solemn, almost Biblical tone of your fine column, combined with its appropriate title, managed to strike just the right note of sympathetic sadness which is so vital to an obituary column.

Well-wisher.

Since printing the above, we have become rather doubtful about the intentions of the second letter. In fact, the more we look at it, the more it seems downright mean and sarcastic. But there is another side to this question, Well-wisher. Look at the comments by famous people on our column, and then see if you do not stand condemned before your own eyes.

"It is absolutely unique."—Benito Mussolini.

"I can honestly say that I have never written anything like it."—Ogden Nash.

"It has none of the dreamy vagueness so popular with the modern school."—Alexander Woolcott.

"It is the best thing you have ever written."—Baby LeRoy.

"Your jokes are thoroughly in tune with times."—Napoleon Bonaparte.

Famous last words:—"So she flunked me. G'bye, Burt."

MILK MUST BE Sold

Milk salesmanship is vital to the dairy farmer. Bottle by bottle and pound by pound, milk and its products must be sold to the millions. Selling is the final step that turns milk into money. For 79 years Borden has worked at this highly specialized job of selling. Every day Borden advertising and Borden salesman in this and other lands are at work selling the products of milk. Constant year-in and year-out effort to broaden the market is one reason why America has become the world's largest producer as well as the largest consumer of dairy products. The dairy farmer benefits accordingly.
